

data viz url: <https://tradingeconomics.com/united-states/unemployment-rate>

This is a data viz for the unemployment rate in United States. As we can see, from 2012 to 2020, the unemployment rate decreases from 8% to about 3%. However, due to the pandemic, there is a steep increase in 2020. I think this kind of data viz is quite shocking because we can actually see how much impact this pandemic has done on the US economy even the economy of the entire world.
